PROFILE

As a graphic designer, I work with visual identity, illustration, story-telling, motion design, infographics, and video production. Through collaborations with clients such as Live Nation and Midgaard Event, I have gained experience turning ideas into strong visual solutions across both digital and printed media.

I work effectively both independently and in teams, and I greatly value open communication and creative collaboration. As a recent graduate, I bring a fresh perspective and professional curiosity, and continuously develop my skills through independent creative projects.
